Description

I am interested in gaining practical experience in tax administration, revenue collection processes, and compliance management at the Kenya Revenue Authority. As an Industrial Chemistry student at the University of Nairobi, I am particularly interested in understanding how regulatory frameworks, quality control, and excise duties relate to chemical and manufacturing industries. I prefer a dynamic learning environment where I can work with professionals, handle real tasks, and develop analytical, communication, and problem-solving skills. I expect this attachment to expose me to professional standards, enhance my understanding of public sector operations, and equip me with practical knowledge that will complement my academic studies and prepare me for future career growth.
